

PANEL DISCUSSION: Top Ten Priorities for Materials Education ?

J.E.E. Baglin (Moderator)⁽¹⁾, S. Mascarenhas⁽²⁾, M. Van de Voorde⁽³⁾, C. de Moura Castro⁽⁴⁾, M.G. Norton⁽⁵⁾ and M. Knobel⁽⁶⁾

- (1) IBM Almaden Research Center, San Jose, CA, USA
- (2) Univ. of Sao Paulo, Sao Carlos, Brazil
- (3) Delft Univ. of Technology, The Netherlands
- (4) Sistema Positivo, Curitiba, Paraná, Brazil
- (5) Washington State Univ., Pullman, WA, USA
- (6) IFGW/Unicamp, Campinas, Brazil

Abstract - This open Panel Discussion will begin with a short presentation by each member of the Panel, offering his opinions about the major global and local opportunities and challenges facing Materials Education today. We shall then invite comments and ideas from the audience. We will conclude with an attempt to list the ten highest priorities for action by Materials Educators. [J. Baglin will serve as Moderator for this discussion.]

This open Panel Discussion will begin with a short presentation by each member of the Panel, offering his opinions about the major global and local opportunities and challenges facing Materials Education today. We shall then invite comments and ideas from the audience. We will conclude with an attempt to list the ten highest priorities for action by Materials Educators. [J. Baglin will serve as Moderator for this discussion.]